

The Burns Sisters - You Have Arrived

All the times that you have tried
All the dreams that were denied
Can't touch you now
Can't hold you down
You've risen above the pain, in time

Lay your armor by your side
See the mountains by your side
You dared to believe
When no one could see
You making your way through the night

You have arrived
You have arrived
To your place in the sun
Your turn to fly
The battle is won
Spread your wings to the sky
You have arrived

Feel the wind against your skin
Feel the power deep within
And know in your heart
You stand apart
Open your arms and begin
You have arrived
You have arrived
To your place in the sun
Your turn to fly
The battle is won
Spread your wings to the sky

You have arrived

Time standing still

Fly, but don't look down

Rise if you will

From this frozen ground

Angels in flight lead you home now...

You have arrived

You have arrived

To your place in the sun

Your turn to fly

The battle is won

Spread your wings to the sky

You have arrived
