

CAIRO! - Coming Home

Stretched out on the ground
Too shaken to know what I'd seen
Came here through a door
That seemed too small for anything
As I looked to the side of me
The scene melted away
But hundreds were there to take its place

Brace for random shocks
In each day's mad design
Crushed by extreme demands
On my body and my mind
As I looked up to the sky
Dreams melted away
How can I face another day?
(It's here somewhere ... find it somewhere ...
Find my way home ...)

Help me find my way back home

(Time change just to change again ...
When will our brokenness start to mend?)

Faster the moments race
Red shift is all I see
And now, here come the hounds again
My God, does hell never sleeps
But as my strength nears the end
And hopes have faded away
I will push on for a better day

(It's here somewhere ... find it somewhere ...
Find my way home ...)

Help me find the way

How much can I take?

I'm so far from where I began

Can I let go of all

The idols of self-serving man?

But what's that, between the lies

Could it be the way?

(Feel it draw near ... as the smoke clears ...

See my way home ...)

Keep the faith, I'm coming home

Times change just to change

Again, when will our brokenness

... In time
