

Derek Pope - There Goes My Mind

{Intro}

There goes my mind

There goes my mind

It passed me by

Past all the lights

It lies just like

The love at night

You love me right

You love me right

{Chorus}

Don't look at me to save us

I'm not the hero anymore

If they don't crucify you

They think you're nobody at all

All I used to want was a castle not made of sand

A world in my hands to let go

{Verse 1}

But I'd rather be a warrior than awarded

Rather have them hate the price than be afforded

Back in '67 that big head now enormous

Colorado but still smell like California

{Bridge}

Out in orbit today

Ain't got shit up on my plate, but you know this a buffet

Gotta listen okay

By the time you hear my voice inside your head it's too late

{Verse 2}

Am I out of line? So what

Can't kill your ego if a new one show up
Can't gas me I been overdue to blow up
In the backseat just so I don't have to talk
I think about the way you are
Watching from your view
I wonder if you feel me there staring back at you
Don't ever want the truth, I know

{Bridge}

Out in orbit today
Ain't got shit up on my plate, but you know this a buffet
Gotta listen okay
By the time you hear my voice inside your head it's too late

{Verse 3}

You know the rule
If you can't spot the joker in a room of fools, then it's probably you
Fiddler on the roof not a camera shoot
Turned life's lemons to forbidden fruits

{Chorus}

Don't look at me to save us
I'm not the hero anymore
If they don't crucify you
They think you're nobody at all
All I used to want was a castle not made of sand
A world in my hands to let go
