

YT - Shoulda Known

{Intro}

(BenjiCold, why you icey?)

Who would've known that falling out of love was so hard?

Yeah, falling out of love was so hard

Who would've known that falling out of love was so hard?

{Chorus}

Who would've known that falling out of love was so hard?

Who would've known that you would find another so fast?

Should've known that good things don't last

Moving forward, girl, I've got to leave your memory in the past

Who would've known that falling out of love was so hard?

Who would've known that you would find another so fast?

Should've known that good things don't last

Moving forward, girl, I've got to leave your memory in the past

{Verse 1}

Girl, I see you've found another and it hurts

Even more because your love was my first

Yeah, you still have my hoodies and my shirts

Who am I kidding? Girl, it would've never worked

Girl, it would've never worked cos wɔɹe different

I still think about looking in your eyes when we were kissing

And yeah, you know I've got some other girls but they ain't hitting

And girl, you know I've got another girl but something's missing

She just ain't you

All the things we'd do

We'd just chill in the park or we'd just chill in your room

You're someone who I

Who I thought I'd never lose

And, girl, when you're with him please tell me you don't wear my Trues

You still wear my True Religion

I had to make a decision

You know I'm a man on a mission

Do you love him how you loved me?

Or was our love different?

Hope you don't love him how you loved me

Please, don't put no one above me

I know we had something real

{Chorus}

Who would've known that falling out of love was so hard?

Who would've known that you would find another so fast?

Should've known that good things don't last

Moving forward, girl, I've got to leave your memory in the past

{Verse 2}

Moving on

Yeah, my new girl, she's got brown hair

Lost inside them dark eyes man I'm trying not to stare

Baby, I was by your side when you were hurt and shedding tears

But you just wanna stay friends and, girl, I guess it's kinda fair

I wish I told you how I felt when you were here

But now it's too late cos I'm going for a year

Shawty, tell me what you're worried about

Tell me what you fear

Couple nights we had together they were special, they were rare

And I would tell you how I feel

But I'm scared I'm gonna lose you

Knew things would change and that's just something I can't afford

Would've gave you my heart but you'd have slashed it with a sword

Did those moments mean a thing or were you just bored?

And you say that we're too close and you say that we're just friends

You say if we get together then our friendship's gonna end

Baby, that ain't gonna happen

Please just stop the cappin'

I know you like me quit

I know you like me quit acting

You've been through a lot girl you're stronger than you know

You think that you're worthless you deserve the most

Don't let your past define you it's the future that you've chose

You can choose your future you're the strongest girl I know
