Craig Scissorhands - YOU HURT ME, I HURT YOU

{intro: craig scissorhands}

Struggling to breathe with you on my chest again

I can't sleep because i'm such a mess again

{chorus: craig scissorhands}

What if i really meant you harm and i died inside your arms?

What if i killed myself in front of you?

What if this shit wasn't so hard?

What if you never gave me scars?

What if i spilled myself in front of you?

{verse: heptaknot}

Collected in a way that stabs even harder

Persistence is gone, but intensity is there

It hurts to be far and impossible to restart

Something doesn't feel right, it's heavy in the air

Staring at a skeleton in my closet

It's there to collÐµct dust if i'm being honest

It stings evÐµry time i come across it

It's soul spills onto the carpet

I never really meant you harm

Intentions remained the same from the start

Falling on my face, i don't wanna act out of place

Don't really wanna disappear, i'll be here

{chorus: craig scissorhands}

What if i really meant you harm and i died inside your arms?

What if i killed myself in front of you?

What if this shit wasn't so hard?

What if you never gave me scars?

What if i spilled myself in front of you?

What if i really meant you harm and i died inside your arms?

What if i killed myself in front of you?

What if this shit wasn't so hard?

What if you never gave me scars?

What if i spilled myself in front of you?
