

Derek Pope - Different

{Intro}

When I see you again

I'll be different

You'll be different

It'll be different

When I see you again

I'll be different

You'll be different

It'll be different

It'll be different

{Chorus}

Laughing gas pack man something smells funny

Never sell my soul they don't have enough money

If she paint her toes white might just go dummy

If I paint her nose I know she saw it coming

Rounds of applause now can you hold for me

Round and around now where are we going

Ice in my veins like every day snowing

Put it all down like everything stolen

{Bridge}

Different, I feel indifferent

Can't tell me shit if you can't tell me, the fuckin difference

Can't tell me shit if you can't tell me the fuckin difference

Can't tell me shit if you can't tell me what's really missing, woah

Different, I feel indifferent

Can't tell me shit if you can't tell me, the fuckin difference

Can't tell me shit if you can't tell me the fuckin difference

Can't tell me shit if you can't tell me the fuckin difference

{Verse}

Make my new name no name

With the propane, buttons with the gold chain

She like board games, bored with the foreplay

In your office, or hit it on your off day

Don't want me goin too commercial like I'm All State

Don't want the Uno card reversal when it's your fate

But will not takes their eyes up off me like a car chase

No brakes, hunting for your head I got wall space

{Chorus}

Laughing gas pack man something smells funny

Never sell my soul they don't have enough money

If she paint her toes white might just go dummy

If I paint her nose I know she saw it coming

Rounds of applause now can you hold for me

Round and around now where are we going

Ice in my veins like every day snowing

Put it all down like everything stolen
