

Godard - Blessed Be The Sinners

{Verse}

For every sinner, there's a blessin', man

I come correct for where I'm plannin'

Doesn't seem to me they understand

And every place I go, I'm on demand

Don't change the channel, take this knowledge

Say it's finer when I made the man

A politician, but no president, I speak my mind, I speak the truth

See, for the people, I'm a better man

He paired the pole up with IÐµather, man

Don't let him catch you in the streets

So hÐµ gon' find you and contest your plans

How many times could he just get away?

Escaped the matrix, say he made it, but he'll catch you in another place

But you'll catch him in another place
