

Christian Kjellvander - Baptist Lodge

I felt little joy and unneeded suspense in being hijacked
I have this love for truth and simple divine being Yeah I'm creepy like that
Because I need to be as close as real leather soles on a wooden stage
To feel the newness of every day
Outside the Baptist Lodge there is new paint on an old Dodge
Once it goes east it ain't ever coming back
It is what it is and it was what it was
You know when you know it ain't ever coming back
To know it is to know it ain't ever coming back
I awoke with the feeling of spring and felt the clouds disappear that day
At this point in time I had three boys and a daughter on the way
I drove down to the southern most beach in our country
I saw a goddess step out of the water and straight into my family
Meanwhile at the Baptist Lodge there is new paint on an old Dodge
Once it goes east it ain't ever coming back
It is what it is and it was what it was
You know when you know it ain't ever coming back
To know it is to know it ain't ever coming back
A car like that ain't gonna make it back
I was a child with you
You were a child with me
I kept my boots on for you
You kept your boots on for me
You know when you know it ain't ever coming back
Oh honey I'm on a much bigger trip than that Walking straight on the borderline
Feel the borders cross our paths
