

Sewerperson - The best thing

{intro}

It was never your fault

I evolved too soon (boyfifty)

{verse}

Baby, i could see you switched routes

I'll deal with it on my own, i'm headed some way down

Tell me why it won't work out

'cause i was sure i had it figured out

Oh, it resonate with me how you came up

And i respect the way you talk about your close ones

Oh, it touched my heart right now, i melt

But i promise you i hide it well

New york, now i'm in chicago

But i swear i hide, just been the same roads

Atleast i mean well

Well, i suppose 'till we're dead or in shambles

Artists rot, but please don't go

Remember me while i battle what i never show

Embracing the one i call home

Close your mouth, 'cause that's not snow

{chorus}

Lord take me

Up to my feet

Though i can't see

I can feel my way through the trees were alive

It's dark right now, but i still sneak out

'cause in this shitbox town

You were the best thing around

Oh, i swear

Since you laid down

I miss you here with me like right now

And the lake makes no sound

As i tread through and let myself drown

{bridge}

You really best

{?} best thing

I don't wanna die just yet

I'm just going, i'm just going real soon

I {?}

Everything i try to do

{chorus}

Oh, it's dark right now, but i still sneak out

'cause in this shitbox town

You were the best thing around, oh, i swear
