

Saber - Black Rose

Verse 1:

Black woman, shine like your skin does
Strength to my sister, when life gets hard
Peace to my mother, always praying for her children
Courage to my girl for everything she's going through but, just scared to share
No matter how hot the kitchen gets
Yeah, resist to break, like a Pyrex
If he lays his hands on your skin, don't stay silent
So many women came out, "loving homes", lifeless
Your mother raised you on her own, ma
But you outhere dĐµpressed 'cause thĐµ baby daddy, don't wanna own up
Look, fuck him, dry those tears
Kneel down, pray to God, surrender all your fears
Hold prayers dear
The, house wife-dad at work cycle, gotta break
Follow your dreams, get your degree
Work hard to the max
Weak ass niggas, will always tryna keep you subdued
But times have long changed, you can get whatever a man gets

Hook:

Black rose
Black woman, so smart, picture perfect, girl get yours
Hello
Gotta treat them gently, 'cause you know roses got thorns
Hello
Yellow mamy, black mamy, brown mamy, skin shines Gold
Hello (yeah, yeah)
Hello

Verse 2

So many niggas out there raising babies, that are not their own
And still don't know

Next thing headlines on the radio

"Man murders his whole family",, and it's wrong to say a woman led him down that road

Right? So many times women do us wrong

One man cannot provide, and his seen as a flop

All men are weighed different, from the one at the top

Only get pictures, but in real life they get cropped out

So many niggas aren't allowed to see their blood, their kids

I'm convinced that sometimes, women just wanna see us bleed

Some niggas' dads were never present, they just wanna break the wheel

They just wanna be there for their own, they could never flee

We can't always act, Man of Steel, taking shit with our chests

Treat us more gently, I swear we'll learn to be better men

But the truth is, nothing will change, if we not willing to change first

Gotter be willing to change first
