

The Burns Sisters - Run Rebel Run

You're not a boy anymore
But not quite a man
You're so wise in your eyes
But your heart is in your head
So many ideals
That blow them away
And they can feel the power
In everything you say

Stick to your guns
Be who you are
You are the future
You bear the scar
And don't let them change you
Or what you've begun
Oh, run for your freedom

Run, rebel, run, rebel, run
Run, rebel, run, rebel, run

Walking out of step
The beat's not the same
Are you the different drummer
Who cannot play their game?
Pure hearted hero
Your spirit so bright
Through the long, dark tunnel
You can see the light
The truth that you see
Is all that you know
What they say doesn't matter

What they say isn't so
'Cause you know the answer's
Not found with a gun
For all of the children

Run, rebel, run, rebel, run
Don't let them change you
Run, rebel, run, rebel, run
Don't let them
Run, rebel, run, rebel, run

Run, rebel, run

Eyes so clear, your heart's so old
What drives you so hard?
Wondering what secrets do you hold?
Living just like them would be like living a lie

You're more than a vision
You're more than a dream
You know what you want
You say what you mean
So march through the streets
March on towards the sun
They're right there behind you
Run, rebel, run, rebel, run
Don't let them change you
Don't let them
Run, rebel, run, rebel, run
