JCGRAFTON - We'll Be Fine.

{Intro: JCGRAFTON}

(What song you listening to?)

Ooh, no

I don't know

{Verse: JCGRAFTON}

Can I tell you something?

'Cause I can tell you can tell something's wrong

And I know that I love you

But I ain't love you like that all along

So I'm not obsessed with you but I'm known to bend the truth

I got nothing but you to lose and I got nothing left to prove

I can't spend another day thinking about you

I just spent another day all in my room

I've been racking up my brain thinking if soon if maybe you be down to just come through

All of these memories run in my head

Tear stains on my pillows in my bed

Try to send a text but you left me on read

I've been racking my brain thinking about what you said

You're not what I need

But you're all that I see

And I can't really live without you

It's all too good to bÐµ true

(Yeah, gay mode, gay ass)

Girl I lovÐµ you

(How was it?)

(We know)

(Wait how do I turn it off?)
