

Benevolent Sin - Breakup

{intro}

It felt like love

What was it all for?

It's been two long weeks since the breakup

And i still can't make me give up

It's been two long weeks since the breakup

And i

Fuck

Two long weeks since the breakup

And i still can't make me give up

It's been two long weeks since the breakup

And i'm feeling stuck

{verse 1}

My last summer's lost to the breakup

I feel fucking lost when i wake up

I can't face the frost in your makeup

I can't go get lost for the sake of us

I thought that nothing could break us

I thought love existed to save us

I saw blood get shed from my fucking wrists

Because breakups hurt more than vein cuts

I can't fight the feeling that you hate me now

And can't fight the feeling that it's justified

Lemme tell you how i'm really breaking down

So i can get you with me for just one more night

There's trauma deep embedded in this town

Everything reminds me of that you and i

I'm overwhelmed by how we're falling out

So we ain't fucking friends if i can't make you mine

{chorus}

It's been two long weeks since the breakup

And i still can't make me give up

It's been two long weeks since the breakup

And i'm feeling stuck

It's been two long weeks since the breakup

It's been two long weeks with these cuts

It's been two long weeks since the breakup

And i'm feeling stuck

{verse 2}

Okay

I can't stand the way you make me feel

I can't stand the shit you make me do

I can't accept that we're fucking through

Because i cannot handle life away from you

I spent two weeks living in denial

But our conversations only made it true

I'm up all night so i can pray to you

All this love has got me fucking hating you

Tell me why someone strong like you fled

Does it have to do with the fact that you only love me when i'm in your bed?

Or was it just something i said?

When i think of myself i see red

When i think of myself i see the pain i've developed

And i start thinking i'm better off dead

Just keep saying it's all in my head

Just keep saying it's all in my head

{reprise}

I've been too damn weak since the breakup

I've been too damn weak since the breakup

I've been too damn weak since the breakup

I've been too damn weak since the breakup

I've been too damn weak since the breakup

I've been too damn weak since the breakup

I've been too damn weak since the breakup

I've been too damn weak since the breakup

Fuck
