

Silas Simmons - Whose Rainbow is That?

{verse 1} yeah, yo i got a couple things to say, may not be the prettiest or make you turn the littiest. but we got a test to take check the litmus, our country's gotten real sick and i'm a witness. turn on the tv, social media is wild, exposed to the man, woman, and even child (crazy). how they push their agendas upon us, devilish systems that's ruling if we're honest (yup). namely speaking on the lgbt, an unbiblical movement in our nation that we see. nissi - jehovah is our banner that's the message, but i don't think jehovah wants his banner filled with deadness (nope). in this i know i stand to lose some followers, but comparing that to god and his word is the most absurd (amen). and by the end of this song i hope you've heard, what god says about this travesty so that you'll turn, check it

{hook} yeah pride or humility, turn away from christ and that's death for infinity, yeah pride or humility, trust the son of god and his infallibility . yeah pride or humility, go before the lord in your filth impossibility. yeah pride or humility, turn from your evil sin or he'll kill you viciously

{verse 2} ayy getting back to the topic while it's day yo, let's talk about exactly who owns the rainbow. does it belong to a group cause they say so, or simply cause they tell us that it's theirs as they claim so. going back a long time before this movement, let's investigate and check this thing out with prudence (genesis). god made the rainbow in it's fullness, to give a sign to his people and he's proved it. æsi why you make this type of song ? it's so useless, and honestly the way you call them out is so stupid. let these people have their moment please excuse them, and stop being a tyrant while you speak against them ruthless.• you see i know that's the type things i'll hear, but if i don't speak the truth then i'd be scratching itching ears. and in sincere hope i write what i do, and bring the word of god to your attention, that's my proof

{hook} yeah pride or humility, turn away from christ and that's death for i

{verse 3} yeah, i know that this topic may cause aversion, and militant beh

how many genders are there please tell me dude!â€• oh that's an easy answer he made two! (tell em) now i know that they'll disagree in the highest, but can you come with facts and please bring me science? cause scientifically, you're spitting ridiculously when you try to tell us that science confirms this principally. cause in reality it's truly contradictory, you're harmin
