

Cecilia Castleman - Can't Escape A Broken Heart

I bet that you're out in town... Dancing with some girl you found I hate the way this city sounds
When I'm trying not to think of you As the taxi takes the scenic route But all I ever seem to do
I see you in the garden When we were 17
Young and open hearted But dumb enough to dream I see you in the sunrise
I see you in the dark
Darling you're never far
Guess you can't escape a broken heart
If I could I'd move away
But I don't have the money saved Guess I have to learn to take the pain
Of knowing that you could be Living down the road Promising forever
To someone I don't know Even now we're strangers Only sharing stars
Darling you're never far
Guess you can't escape a broken heart
I see you in the garden When we were 17
Young and open hearted But dumb enough to dream I see you in the sunrise
I see you in the dark
Darling you're never far
Guess you can't escape
No you can't escape a broken heart
