

Swing Out Sister - Making the Right Move

Sweet talkin' in hush tones
At last we're all alone
A fleeting glance that just by chance
Had flourished and grow

Can't keep it to myself
It's you and no one else
With you I feel sweet dreams until My conscience melts away

As long as the night can last without day
We'll stay out of sight and just drift away
Close your eyes and stay
You're makin' the right move
From now what's mine is yours
Each kiss and night defines
The city sleeps the thoughts we keep
We share amongst the stars

Oblivious to time
Your heartbeat racing by
A tender touch, they say so much
It leaves nothing more to hide

As long as the night can last without day
We'll stay out of sight and just drift away
Close your eyes and stay
You're makin' the right moves

You're makin' the right move
