

The Burns Sisters - The Owl

I heard the owl call my name
Through the wind again
Alone in the night I did run
When the morning sun broke through
I had run to you
Let it go
Let me in, for the reckoning comes

We were like sisters
Glory and Disaster
How did we ever let that trouble win?
Pride is a killer
If time is a healer
Let it go
Let it end
Will you let me in?
I have seen the deepest dark of the night
I have bathed in hidden waters
Help me reach for the truth and the light
All I have is love to offer

Never so hard to find some meaning
Never so sure to fall from our innocence
Never so close beside our demons
Never so far to go from our innocence

I heard the owl call my name
Through the wind again
Let it go
Let it end
Will you let me in?
