

Revolver - Let Go

And all the faces you wanted to show

There's nothing more than what you are and where you go

Nothing more than what you see and how you feel

It doesn't make sense it doesn't go away (does it make sense?)

Did you feel anything today?

How do you explain all the sleepless nights?

How do you explain all the fears you've got?

Let go of all of them

Let go my friend

(does it make sense?)

Suddenly, the rain starts tapping on the window pane

The ringing in my ears is slowly fading out

A drop of silence in an empty glass

And then I slip away into the night

But how can I explain?

I'm going down memory lane

How long before you think I was a lie?

How long before I learn how to let go

Let go

(does it make sense?)