

Christian Kjellvander - Juanita

In a world of tails
I'd be among the true
In a world of truth
Honey, I'd die to be you

On darkened highways
Trying to beat sleep to the Grapevine
You lay defeated
As I stayed between the lines

And though I really haven't known you for that long
I've read all that you've written and danced to your song

And we listened over and over
To the highway kind
Though sex'd left our bodies
It surely hadn't left our minds
Why can't I love this woman?!
I walked off alone
Like we'd been doing for years
Without us knowing

And though I really haven't known you for that long
I've read all that you've written and danced to your best song

The aim of movement to hit that scent and sound
But some words just seem to miss you all year around
